CONCERNING RELATIVITY

Even Einstein, physical genius,

Very relatively I understood everything ...

Vladimir Vysotsky

Einstein's theory is based on two basic principles: 1) principle of relativity: physical laws remain even for the bodies which are inertial reference systems, i.e. moving at a constant speed relatively each other; 2) principle of velocity of light: velocity of light remains invariable for all observers, irrespective of their speed in relation to a light source.

We have created exclusive hypotheses which in a root contradict the basic principles of the theory of Einstein, but successfully explain relevant paradoxes of the Universe. The following assumptions are the cornerstone of the offered hypotheses:

1. Any limited and closed system has the energy.
2. Time is absolute.
3. Velocity of light can change from zero indefinitely.
4. Asymmetry – the main principle of existence of all.

On the basis of the above the hypothesis logically follows: in the Universe everything concerning space of Anything, God's Love and Time.

"Here it is valid, everything is relative, all - all all!", – Vladimir Vysotsky.
